

New Product Release

Product Introduction (1990)

Fly Ash Eccentric Plug Valve
(Fig. 601-ASH)

The Millcentric "Fly Ash" valve features a hardened or "austempered" all metal ductile iron plug, an oversized waterway and a soft natural rubberlined body to counteract the abrasive characteristics of fly ash and provide extended valve life and operational advantages.

Automated operation, special body materials or coatings can also be provided

Please contact Milliken Valve Company for more Information